Frankly Speaking...

Gold Star Family Week Includes Unveiling of Monument at Trinity Park

Gold Star Families started in World War I when families with loved ones serving, hung a flag in their window with a blue star for each member that was in the military. If one of them sadly died while serving the blue star was replaced with a gold star. In 1947, Congress authorized the military to give the family of a fallen hero a gold star for their lapel. This week at Trinity Park in West Palm Beach a memorial monument for Gold Star Families was unveiled. The dedication said “it is to honor and remember our fallen military who made the ultimate sacrifice and the Gold Star Families who continue to endure their loss.” Seven more monuments will be placed in WPB. Special thanks to all the sponsors, The Hershhal “Woody” Williams Medal of Honor Foundation and the Gold Star Families Memorial Monument Committee.

Rep. Frankel’s Statement on Impeachment

“It is obvious that President Trump knows no boundaries when advancing his own personal interests. The latest allegations that the President pressured the President of Ukraine to investigate a political opponent and is blocking a whistleblower’s complaint detailing those actions, if true, represent a clear abuse of power and impeachable offense. The American people deserve the truth. I join all those calling for impeachment proceedings.”

Transcribed Statement Below:

This is a special message to all my friends who join me in celebrating Rosh Hashana. It's been a challenging year for Jews in this country and around the world. Rising threats of anti-Semitism, attacks on our synagogues. But this week we celebrate a new year, new hope, and I wish you all a sweet Shana Tova.

Florida Hurricane Season Does Not End Until November 30

Despite that we thankfully were not impacted by Hurricane Dorian, we should remember that we still have two months left of the season. I urge everyone to stay informed and keep all supplies on hand if needed and keep in touch with those who may need assistance if a storm should come our way.

Season is Almost Here.... Be Sure Your Passport is NOT Expired
