Session Starting Soon!

Florida's 2020 regular legislative session starts on Tuesday, Jan. 14, and I'm proud to be championing mental health priorities this session, including HB 939 establishing medical insurance parity for mental health and substance abuse disorders. I'm also a prime co-sponsor of HB 315 letting school boards authorize excused absences for mental health needs. Such measures have the potential to give meaningful support to Florida's families struggling with the after-effects of violence, drug use and social disruption. I'm optimistic we'll have a real impact – and a great session!

Representative Emily Slosberg, District

Rep. Slosberg (left) and Rep. Jackie Toledo (right) were honored as Florida’s 2019 “legislative champions” for outstanding leadership in winning enactment of texting while driving legislation in the 2019 legislative session. On behalf of the National Waste and Recycling Association, Keyna Cory (center) praised their work.

You Can’t Vote If You Aren’t Registered

Florida’s presidential preference primary will be March 17, 2020. To vote you must be registered at least 29 days before the date of the election in the political party for which the primary is being held. If you are new to Florida or your address has changed, call the Supervisor of Elections office at (561) 656-6200 or go online at www.pbcelections.org. As long as you have access to a computer, the www.pbcelections.org website is designed to give you all the information you need for Palm Beach County voting, whether you are asking for a vote-by-mail ballot, wanting to work at the polls or are interested in voter and election statistics.

If you have questions or need help, don’t hesitate to call the District 91 office. Our team is here to serve you!

Busy Weeks Ahead

After a full schedule of interim committee meetings last fall, Florida's 2020 legislative session kicks into gear on Jan. 14. The governor will deliver his "state of the state" address that day and work will already be under way on bills filed in the autumn.

Barring any need for a special session, March 13 is the last day of this year's session. If you have questions or want to tell us about issues of particular concern for your family, call our District 91 office in Delray Beach at 561-496-5940 or in Tallahassee at 870-717-5091. We want to help!

As the chief spokesperson for nonviolent activism in the Civil Rights Movement, Martin Luther King Jr. is honored on the third Monday of January (or January 20 this year). As with other federal holidays, most government offices and schools are closed. In keeping with federal legislation signed by President Bill Clinton in 1994, synagogues and churches, civic groups and non-profit organizations often sponsor volunteer action programs to honor Dr. King. As King himself said, "To serve, you only need a heart full of grace and a soul generated by love."

Get to Know Palm Beach County!

The Alliance of Delray is sponsoring a free public expo aimed at giving local residents a chance to meet public officials and learn about Palm Beach County's government operations, safety services, health programs and other resources available to the public.

Among others, the exhibitors will include the Palm Beach County Health Department, the Sheriff's Office and Solid Waste Authority, the County Appraiser and Tax Collector, Parks and Recreation, PBC Fire Rescue, Legislative Affairs, Victim Services, Transportation Planning, the office of Supervisor of Elections, the county's Office of Resilience as well as Water Utilities and South Florida Water Management District.

The expo will be from 9 a.m. to noon on Feb. 7, 2020 at the South County Civic Center, 16700 Jog Road in Delray Beach. In announcing the event, the Alliance encouraged citizens to bring others to learn firsthand about Palm Beach County's government services. The Alliance is a non-profit, non-partisan organization of homeowner and condominium associations that works to present a unified voice to elected leaders and other public officials concerning traffic control, road-building, commercial and residential development, health and emergency services, and other public issues.
