Mistake May Cost You

Homeowners be aware that plantings, hard scaping and structures within LWDD's canal rights-of-way are not allowed. Unpermitted encroachments within the right-of-way will have to be removed. Considering the expense of installation and removal, this can be a costly mistake. Don't waste your time or money. It is always a good idea to contact us and verify property lines before any construction project.

Doing Business With LWDD

LWDD purchases goods and services from various vendors throughout the state. Our procurement practices promote fairness and encourage diversity and are consistent with applicable laws, policies, and procedures. We encourage qualified vendors and contractors to respond to solicitations by submitting offers and proposals. Also, LWDD auctions used equipment, vehicles and other office items that are no longer needed. More information about doing business with LWDD, can be found on our website.
