2022 Legislative Session

The 2022 Legislative Session began on Tuesday, January 11th, with a joint Session of the Florida Senate and House of Representatives. Governor Ron DeSantis delivered his State of the State address to legislators, members of the cabinet, and invited guests. The governor's proposed budget and priorities are fueled by federal dollars, a measure all Florida GOP Congressional members voted against. Among many visitors in the gallery was North Miami Beach police officer Yehuda Topper who is the state's first orthodox Jewish police officer.
