Sine Die

The end of Legislative Session in Florida is called Sine Die, the Latin term meaning "without day." The final adjournment of the 2022 Session, held on March 14th, marked one of the few traditions upheld during a Session unlike any other. A white handkerchief is ceremonially dropped by the House and Senate sergeants-at-arms to mark the precise moment of Session's end, when the chambers adjourn in unison.

Bills of Interest

The last two weeks of Session have moved at lighting speed. The members have been busy debating and passing many bills of interest. HB1577 Homeless Youth is a bill that assists youths struggling with housing insecurity. The bill requires the Department of Health to waive certified birth certificate fees for unaccompanied homeless youth. It also opens access to college, university, technical school, and other postsecondary education opportunities to students who experience homelessness. Additionally, the bill provides entry, for eligible youth, to the Keys to Independence Program, which pays
